

Route Summary

This fabulous walk follows beautiful country paths on the Chatsworth Estate, passing through the charming villages of Calton Lees and Edensor. It provides spectacular views of Chatsworth House and the River Derwent, and there's a good chance of seeing both red deer and fallow deer en route.

Route Overview

Category: Walking

Rating: Unrated

Surface: Moderate

Date Published: 28th January 2020

Difficulty: Easy

Length: 6.150 km / 3.84 mi

Last Modified: 28th January 2020

Description

Introduction

This fabulous walk follows beautiful country paths on the Chatsworth Estate, passing through the charming villages of Calton Lees and Edensor. It provides spectacular views of Chatsworth House and the River Derwent, and there's a very good chance of seeing both red deer and fallow deer en route.

This is a walk of just under 4 miles. Most of the terrain is on country lanes, although there are some field paths that will be muddy after wet weather. There are gates but no stiles or squeeze stiles. Please be aware that there are a number of steep, uneven steps down as you approach Edensor village. There is a lovely café at the Chatsworth Garden Centre at the start/end of the walk, and superb tea rooms in the village of Edensor at the halfway point. There is a public car park at the start point (fees apply). Allow 1-2 hours to complete this walk at a moderate pace, allowing for rest stops to take in the views.

The Walk

1. Park in the car park at Calton Lees, close to the Chatsworth Garden Centre, postcode DE4 2NX, grid ref SK 25891 68539.
2. Turn right out of the car park and walk along the quiet lane, passing the entrance to the garden centre on your left. Follow the lane as it winds through hills and fields, through the small but very pretty cluster of houses known as Calton Lees, keeping straight on, ignoring footpaths off.
3. Keep following the lane as it curves up a slight hill and through another small cluster of houses, beside Pingle and Rye Croft Cottages. The lane narrows and becomes more uneven, until it reaches a wide field gate.
4. Go through the wide gate and turn immediately right, keeping to the left of a stone wall. There are marvellous views over to your right of the Derwent Valley after a short distance.
5. After passing through a small gate ahead of you, walk diagonally left across the field towards a wide gate that leads into a wooded area. Follow the path through the trees.
6. Pass through a second wide gate, at which point you'll have a great open view across the Chatsworth Estate parkland. There are seats here if you fancy a rest to admire the view.
7. Turn right and head down the hill towards the area of woodland you can see ahead of you. Keep your eyes open here for herds of red deer and fallow deer, as well as plenty of sheep.
8. Keeping to the immediate left of the small wood, continue walking in the same direction and heading roughly towards the spire of the church you can see in front of you, which is St Peter's church in the village of Edensor.
9. As you approach the village of Edensor, follow the path up a couple of small steps and through a narrow iron gate. There is then a set of steep steps downwards, with handrails on both sides. Follow the steps down, turn right and emerge into the very pretty village of Edensor.
10. Continuing the walk, head out through Edensor village towards the grand iron gates painted in Chatsworth blue. Go through the gates and carefully cross the road, then take the path directly opposite, heading up a slight hill.
11. As you crest the hill, you'll see Chatsworth House directly in front of you. The path leads you down to the approach road into the Chatsworth House grounds, towards a picturesque bridge over the River Derwent, known as James Paine's Bridge.
12. Don't go over the bridge, but instead cross the road just before it and follow the path across the parkland, with the River Derwent and Chatsworth House on your left.
13. Walk diagonally right across the parkland, heading for a broad set of steps just visible ahead of you. Walk up the steps and follow the path until it eventually meets up with the road (the B6012).
14. Carefully cross the road and go through the blue gates ahead of you, to return to the car park at Calton Lees that you started from.

Waypoints

Map: Ordnance Survey © Crown Copyright and/or database right 2018. Licence number 100043379.

